Looking Back: The Last Decade of Research Publishing in Brazil

204% increase in publications, 2005 - 2015

Brazil has nearly doubled its share of worldwide publications (to 3% of all papers published), while continuing to remain the top research producer in Latin America.

Brazilian journals were 4 of the top 5 targets, 2005 through 2015.

American Journal Experts (AJE) has helped thousands of Brazilian researchers eliminate language barriers and get their work published in the world's best journals. Our editors are researchers themselves, so we understand the importance of publication and can help authors navigate the often-difficult publication process.
